Dr. Spencer,

I want to express to you my disgust and disappointment that neither you nor the Board had the decency to recognize publicly that Molly Nishimura was hired as an administrator - or to thank her for serving in that capacity informally for some time. Similarly, none of you acknowledged the significant change to Stephanie Evans' assigned duties.

Further, it is an embarrassment and failure of both communication and leadership that Ms. Evan's found out that this was going to happen from a teacher yesterday afternoon. The fact that you forgot to talk to her about the duties or to brief her about the imminent change to her position is despicable.

These staff members have been working tirelessly to bring about positive outcomes for students, and when the meeting ended, neither of them was sure if their jobs had changed or not. Both you and the Board owe the two of them apologies.

You and Ms. Sheridan-Boyd made clear last night that staff members are absolutely permitted to communicate with Board members, provided that they do not "skip a step." As such, I am sharing this with you first. I will share it with them next.

Incredulously,
Jake
